First Announcement and Call for Papers

Xth International Conference
"Geoinformatics: Theoretical and Applied Aspects"
10-13 May 2011, Kyiv, Ukraine

Invitation to Geoinformatics 2011

The European Association of Geoscientists & Engineers (EAGE) and the All Ukrainian Association of Geoinformatics (AUAG) hereby invite you to the Xth International Conference 'Geoinformatics: Theoretical and Applied Aspects', which will be held from 10–13 May 2011 in the Bratislava hotel, Kyiv. The city of Kyiv has outstanding research institutes and universities and is conveniently located between east and west and close to promising new areas, such as the Black Sea region.

The event will bring together geoscientists from different countries to share experiences and ideas, establish partnerships, get up to speed on the latest technological advances and enjoy the beauty of the historical heart of Ukraine. Until now, the 'Geoinformatics, Kyiv' conferences have been a great success and attract up to 300 participants every year.

The topics of the conference are outlined on the back of this announcement. They cover virtually all significant areas of geoinformatics, including data storage and geo data management. Besides the normal conference sessions, there will also be a rich cultural agenda.

We look forward to welcoming you in the celebrated city on the Dnieper river – the city of Kyiv!

Technical Programme

The technical programme will offer both oral and poster presentations on a wide range of geoinformatics topics, with special attention for the Ukrainian situation. The conference will include presentations, short courses and round table discussions. Presentations will be made in Ukrainian, English and Russian. Simultaneous translation will be available.

Call for Papers – deadline 1 February 2011

We invite you to contribute to the technical programme. The deadline to submit extended abstracts is 1 February 2011. For a complete list of topics and more information on submitting your abstract online, please refer to our Geoinformatics 2011 website at www.eage.org. Submission on hard copy is also possible; please see the back of this announcement.
